J. S. Austin, president of the Tonopah Mining company, and C. A. Daniels, vice president and general counsel, arrived in town yesterday from Philadelphia on their regular quarterly tour of inspection. They will remain here until about Thursday and then return to their eastern homes.

In discussing the affairs of the company this morning President Austin remarked that while there was practically nothing new to be said, the mine was in a better condition than ever.

"As is well known, the property has been on a permanent basis for years and the method of operation consists merely of extracting the ore and opening up new bodies for a reserve tonnage. One gratifying fact is the manner in which the mill at Millers is being operated by Superintendent Parsons. It is of common knowledge in the mining world that the milling plants of Tonopah are making a saving larger than any other plants where the cyanide process is used. The percentage of extraction is larger while the cost is considerably less. Naturally the work is being watched with a great deal of interest.

"The republicans of Humboldt county are exceedingly fortunate in having as a candidate for state senator one of the best-informed and most progressive citizens of Nevada.

"The nominee is S. K. Bradford. He is essentially a fair, square business man with special adaptation to the great mining interests of Nevada and not a politician in the narrow sense of the word. He is not versed in the game of political trickery, but a plain, ordinary citizen with splendid, enterprising qualities that have done much for the development of Nevada's great natural resources, and in bringing the mining world's attention to these resources.

"As a mining engineer he is at the head of that profession in this state. His very strong ability in this respect attracted him to Nevada years ago and ever since his residence he has been, through mining journals, the press and in contact with financiers, an ardent advocate of the great resources of Nevada, and has done as much as any single individual in the state to develop these resources and attract capital to aid in the upbuilding of Nevada and bring the state to the proud position it occupies today as the greatest gold and copper producer of the western continent."

By Associated Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The baseball championship of the world belongs to Philadelphia's club in the American league.

They clinched the big pennant fast yesterday, seven runs to two for the Chicago Nationals, and there was none in the big overflow crowd to say that they had not won it fairly and squarely. Five games were played, and the eastern youngsters took four of them by outbating, outfielding and outrushing the Chicago veterans. They "got the jump" at the start, and although Chicago punished their progress with a defeat Saturday, it really did not change the situation a bit.

The Philadelphians were due. They won the American league banner in 1902, but there was no world's series that year. Five years ago the New York Nationals were too strong for them. So in this year of grace it was not in the cards that they were to be denied.
